

About the Special measures for applicants who cannot submit any English score

An applicant whose application for the Special measures is accepted can take the English exam by the following method.

If you apply for the special measure, you have to contact us by email.

The following method will be taken as the English exam held at our university campus. Depending on the situation regarding the spread of the infections of the COVID-19, such as changes to online entrance examinations, etc. Also, there is a possibility that schedule, allotment of marks etc., will be changed, in connection with the changes in the examination method.

Be sure to check the latest information in the Information page of the Graduate Admissions site.

Programs	Methods for the Special measures
Mathematics	Written exam
Physics	Written exam
Chemistry	Written exam
Engineering Sciences Subprogram in Applied Physics	Will be announced on HP later
Engineering Sciences Subprogram in Materials Science	Will be announced on HP later
Engineering Sciences Subprogram in Materials Science and Engineering	Written exam
Materials Innovation	Oral exam

Only an applicant who fulfills both Condition A and Condition B below is eligible to apply for the special measure targeted at an applicant who cannot submit an original score report of an external English test.

A: living in a country where TOEFL iBT Special Home Edition does not take place (e.g. People's Republic of China, Islamic Republic of Iran etc.)

B: unable to take the approved English tests including TOEIC, TOEFL iBT、IELTS due to a reason not attributable to him/her (e.g. None of them take place or all of them have been cancelled in their country.)

If your reason for application turns out to be false, your examination results will be invalidated.

Applicants who live in a country where TOEFL iBT Special Home Edition takes place (such as Japan) are ineligible for the special measure.