

Change of Entrance Examination for
 Master's Program in Sport and Olympic Studies,
 Degree Program in Comprehensive Human Sciences
 Academic Year 2022

The entrance examination of the Master's Programs in Sport and Olympic Studies, conducted by the Degree Programs in Comprehensive Human Sciences, the Graduate School of Comprehensive Human Sciences, will be changed as follows:

|                      |   |   |
|----------------------|---|---|
| Web Entry            | January to February   |   |
| Examination Schedule | Primary Selection (Document Screening) : March                  | Secondary Selection (Oral Examination) : April  |
| Subject              | Documents: 100 points   | Oral Examination: 300 points  |
|                      | Comprehensive evaluation of personal records and research plans | Individual interviews will be undertaken in English based on the personal records and research plans. |

The primary examination will be discontinued.

|                             |   |  |
|-----------------------------|---|--|
| Web Entry            | December   |  |
| Examination Schedule | Oral Examination: January                                |  |
| Subject                     | Documents: 100 points   | Oral Examination: 300 points   |
|                             | Comprehensive evaluation of personal records and research plans | Individual interviews will be undertaken in English based on the personal records and research plans.Interviews will be conducted online . |

Selection Method: Assessment of the applicants to be admitted will be done by evaluating the submitted documents and oral examinations.

Please make sure to check the application guidelines as the above changes will be officially incorporated in the guidelines to be announced in April 2021.